The FCMF Executive is excited about the 2018 National Music Festival being hosted by the New Brunswick Federation of Music Festivals on the beautiful campus of Mount Allison University from August 12-16th.

Each year the National Music Festival brings together the best classical music students from every province, to perform in the top venues in the country, to interact and hear and learn from each other, to have workshop sessions with Canada's best adjudicators, and to compete for the top festival prizes in Canada. It is a truly unique Festival that enriches the lives of both performers and audiences alike!

The provincial representatives in each discipline compete, culminating in a final Grand Award Competition on August 16th, where a first prize of $5,000 and second prize of $2,500 will be awarded to the top two competitors.

Following the competitions, the Annual Conference will be held on August 17th and 18th, with the Annual General Meeting on the afternoon of August 18th. Join us in Sackville!

Welcome BBQ

Competitors and their families, accompanists and delegates are invited to a “Backyard BBQ” at 5:30 on Sunday, August 12. The meal is included in the MtA Meal Plan, or may be purchased separately for $18 through the FCMF website.

Why Do We Make Music? - Presentation by Dr. Gregory Burton

Following the Competitor Briefing at 7 PM, Dr. Gregory Burton will speak to the competitors on the question, “Why do we make music?” Having worked as a successful performing symphony musician, conductor, teacher and arts administrator for the past 40 years, Dr. Burton will discuss with festival participants the fundamental question of why so many people love to make music in all of its various forms, how music expresses the most personal of thoughts and why it is so important that accomplished musicians share their gifts in their communities. Dr. Burton will discuss attributes a professional musician must possess such as flexibility, preparedness, diversity, passion, generosity and a dedication to life-long learning.

Dr. Gregory Burton

After living for 13 years in the GTA, Greg Burton is happy to be enjoying the east coast lifestyle again. He teaches in the Music Department of Mount Allison University where he is currently conductor of the University Chamber Orchestra and delivers courses in Music Education and Conducting.

Greg was an active conductor, performer and teacher while in the greater Toronto area having been Music Director of the York Symphony Orchestra, Halton-Mississauga Youth Orchestra, the University of Toronto Wind Ensemble and the McMaster University Chamber Orchestra. He performed with and guest conducted the Niagara Symphony, and was Director of Arts at Hillfield Strathallan College in Hamilton, Ontario.

Prior to his work in Ontario, Greg was a regular conductor and performer with Symphony Nova Scotia, the Nova Scotia Youth Orchestra and a faculty member at Acadia University.

Dinner Theatre

The annual Fun Night for competitors and their families, accompanists and delegates is a Dinner Theatre written and performed by Scott and Irma Mulherin of Broadway Productions, for the 2018 National Music Festival and Annual Conference.

Mount Allison University

The focus of Mount Allison's musical activity is the Marjorie Young Bell Conservatory of Music, which was opened in 1966 and which provides outstanding facilities for the Music department. The building houses studios and offices, practice rooms, ensemble rehearsal rooms, a computer lab, classrooms, the music library, and separate choral and instrumental music collections. It is also home to the 314-seat Brunton Auditorium performance hall.

The recently expanded Alfred Whitehead Memorial Music Library holds thousands of books, recordings, videos, scores, and periodicals, as well as listening, video-viewing, and study areas. The University has an outstanding collection of special instruments including two Casavant organs, two harpsichords, two 9' Yamaha concert grand pianos, as well as numerous other instruments. Practice and performance facilities are readily accessible to music students.

Brunton Auditorium and the Band Room will be two of the performance venues for the competitions.

The "Conserv" is like a school within a school, and there is great camaraderie among faculty and students. The Conservatory is truly the "home away from home" for our students.

The Mount Allison Chapel

Built in 1964 through the generous gifts of alumni and supporters of the University, the Chapel is maintained by a full-time University chaplain. The Mount Allison Chapel is home to denominationally-inclusive religious observances during term time, and is occasionally used for specific rites such as funerals and weddings.

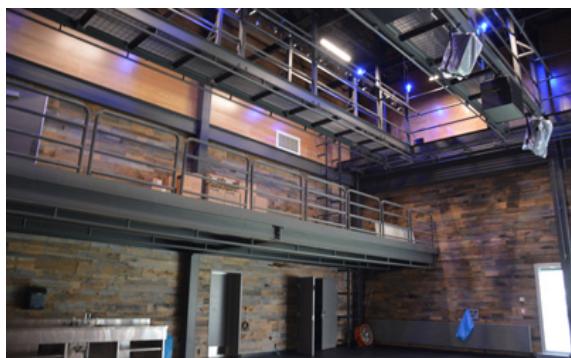

The sanctuary is built on a equilateral cruciform plan, giving a sense of squareness rather than the usual elongated nave that separates people at the back from the liturgical activity at the front.

Acoustically, the Chapel is pure and resonant. A frequently-used site for concerts, the shape of the Chapel brings the audience into closer proximity with the performers.

Motyer-Fancy Theatre

The 100-seat Motyer-Fancy Theatre is housed in the new Purdy Crawford Centre for the Arts and is home to the University's drama program as well as a valuable community resource. One of the top arts education facilities in the country, Mount Allison's new Purdy Crawford Centre for the Arts provides specialized facilities for teaching, performance, and creative pursuits in Fine Arts and Drama. It is named in honour of the late Purdy Crawford (Class of '52, LLD '91) — Mount Allison graduate, chancellor emeritus, and prominent Canadian businessman and philanthropist.

The theatre was named in honour of Dr. Arthur Motyer and Prof. Alex Fancy, both alumni and professor emeriti of drama.

The Motyer-Fancy Theatre combines many old and new features with sophisticated sound and lighting equipment, as well as additional space for teaching and collaboration. The walls of the theatre are made of recycled wood, giving a unique look to the facility.

From the National Office ...

Welcoming Christopher Lane as Treasurer

The Federation of Canadian Music Festivals is pleased to introduce our new Treasurer, Christopher Lane.

Christopher has been involved in the music festival experience from several perspectives – competitor, teacher, conductor, local treasurer, provincial treasurer, and donor.

Christopher brings over fifteen years of experience to the role of Treasurer having worked with Orchestra London from 2000-2006 in Box Office and Marketing management and as Executive Director of Opera New Brunswick from 2006-2010. Since 2012, he has served as treasurer for several not-for-profits, including the Juno-nominated Canadian Chamber Choir. He is Director of Music and Administration at Saint David's United Church in Rothesay, New Brunswick. Christopher is a member of the Canadian Music Festival Adjudicators' Association.

Born and raised in Saint John, New Brunswick, Christopher attended Western University in London, Ontario. He returned to his home province in 2006 where he is active as a private voice teacher, choral director, adjudicator, administrator and clinician.

Strategic Planning

The Federation of Canadian Music Festivals is currently undertaking a Strategic Planning process.

The process is being lead by a Strategic Planning Committee:

- Joy McFarlane-Burton, President, Board of Governors FCMF
- Pam Allen, Past President, Board of Governors FCMF
- Christopher Lane, Treasurer, Board of Governors FCMF
- Barbara Long, Executive Director, FCMF
- Tom Davidson, Provincial Governor - Quebec, FCMF
- Janis Auster, Executive Director, Stratford Kiwanis Festival of the Performing Arts
- Carol Donhauser, Executive Director, Saskatchewan Music Festival Association
- Heilwig Von Koenigsloew, President, Performing Arts BC

The committee reviewed proposals from three Strategic Planning Consultants. It was agreed to contract Jeanne LeSage of LeSage Arts Management [LAM] to facilitate the process for us. Jeanne brings over 25 years experience in executive arts management across multiple artistic disciplines. Jeanne is a Certified Human Resources Leader (CHRL), holds an MBA in Management Consulting, and has launched LeSage Arts Management with a focus on Human Resources, Organizational Effectiveness, Strategy, and Facilitation.

In order to research awareness and engagement from our stakeholders, four surveys were prepared and distributed to our member local festivals, provincial associations, past competitors, and music teachers [both private and university]. Survey results will be received and tabulated by LAM, then used by the committee and Board of Governors to establish strategic directions for the future of FCMF.

President's Message

Let me start by quoting the words of Percy Bysshe Shelley "O, wind, if winter comes, can spring be far behind?" In our city we have been experiencing a spring blizzard. It's a good day to reflect and re-charge our energy and also to look forward to spring's arrival.

Despite the weather, our 230+ annual local music festivals have either concluded, are in progress, or will be taking place in the very near future. Volunteers across the country have enjoyed the annual process of organizing, preparing, and presenting the music festival experience to their local young musicians. I use the word "enjoyed" because, personally, I have not met a local volunteer who is not passionate about the music festival. Sometimes I hear "We can't seem to get many new committee members, but we are never short of volunteers to help at the festival!" That being said, this year I have noticed a surge of renewal with new committee members at local music festivals in my home province.

Last night, I read about a local music festival in Saskatchewan where 4 generations of one family had competed. In that same festival, a woman had participated for 58 years as a teacher or competitor. Dedication indeed! I suspect that stories recognizing local festival folk can resonate in the local festivals across our provinces.

The connection from the local music festivals on to the provincial music festivals will begin soon, which then will prepare the country's best young classical musicians for their journey to the National Music Festival. This year we are honoured to be hosted by the New Brunswick Federation of Music Festivals at Mount Allison University in Sackville.

Exciting plans are well underway which will serve to support the competitors from across the country when they arrive. Although the competition is the culminating event in their year-long journey – there will also be sponsored events which will help everyone to get to know the other competitors and future colleagues in a fun and supportive environment. Plan to be in Sackville August 14 & 15, 2018 to hear the inspiring performances.

Enjoy this season of renewal....Spring is when you feel like singing, even with a shoe full of slush!

Alumni News

Sannu Lawt, Prince Edward Island

Sannu began her musical journey at the age of four on violin, and piano by the age of five. By the age of nine, she had already received several awards through PEI's Kiwanis music festival and in recent years she has been awarded the senior Rose Bowl, PEIMFA President's Award, the Indian River Festival Award and the Suzanne Brenton Memorial Award. Sannu was a former member of the Senior Singing Strings and is now a current member of the Mount Allison Chamber Orchestra and PEI Symphony Orchestra. Furthermore, she has recently represented PEI in the Federation of Canadian Music Festivals National Competition as a violinist and has also represented PEI as a pianist in the past as well. She is currently studying at Mount Allison University to pursue her degree in music.

Learn even more about Sannu and her musical family in this CBC article from last year: <http://www.cbc.ca/news/canada/prince-edward-island/pei-lawt-family-queens-county-music-festival-1.4104324> [posted by PEI Symphony]

The Canadian Music Festival Adjudicator's Association would like to remind everyone of the Duet Prize of $500.00 available to any Festival in Canada. This Award is for the Festival that has the highest number of Piano Duet entries, relative to the total number of piano solo entries, in that Festival. CMFAA believes in the value and joy of making music with others, and for the young musician, this is often the first step.

The Canadian Music Festival Adjudicator's Association is pleased to once again offer the First Prize of $1,500.00 in the Chamber Music category at the National Music Festival. Our roster of adjudicators includes specialists in all disciplines (voice, piano, speech arts, strings, woodwinds, brass, percussion, organ, and guitar) and felt that the Chamber Music category best represented their interest in all aspects of music-making.

The Canadian Music Festival Adjudicator's Association would like to remind all Festivals that we have an excellent roster of approximately 200 adjudicators. Please check our website for the Directory of the adjudicators in order to access their contact information and qualifications. Furthermore, there are Guidelines for both Festival Administrators and Adjudicators which are worth another glance!

CMFAA wishes every Festival, large and small, another season of wonderful music-making, where young people are inspired to do their best and feel rewarded for their efforts. We want to hear 'good news' stories, as well as concerns that you may have.

Mel Hurst, President
CMFAA

From the History Book

The FCMF and NBFMF history books give insight into previous national events held in New Brunswick.

1967 The First National Music Festival - Saint John, NB

Excerpts taken from The Road to Excellence: History of the Federation of Canadian Music Festivals by Valerie Verity

"In January, 1966 a bulletin from Richard Cooke to the affiliated festivals announced that the Centennial Commission had awarded a grant of $61,000.00 for the festival project, to be staged in New Brunswick during July, 1967. Fortunately the Federation was prepared to respond quickly since Mossie Hancock's plans for the festival were complete, while Isabel Heatherington did the French translation of materials. E.G. Pridham and Claude Deschamps were named as Co-Chairmen of the Centennial Festival of Music/Le festival de musique du Centenaire."

"When the "Centenary Festival of Music" was held in July 1967 in Saint John, New Brunswick, there were five competitive areas at the senior level: woodwinds, brass, strings, voice and piano. Solo competition at the junior level and classes for bands and orchestras were held provincially, all judged by three travelling adjudicators. Goldschmidt also got his way, for a Choral competition was held outside the purview of the Federation. It was even planned that the Queen Mother might be present in Saint John for this auspicious occasion. Saskatchewan's Mossie Hancock, one of the instrument organizers, was caught up in the excitement of the event:

Those of us who attended the Saint John Centenary Festival will never forget it. In every way (it was) an exhilarating experience. For the first time ever, the remarkable talent of young Canadian musicians was in one centre for three days. To hear the best from every province in the Finals was to hold for a precious time a real sense of promise, a promise of a future in music that was completely and unmistakably Canadian."

1976 National Annual Conference - Sackville, NB

From 1976 - 1983, the National Music Festival and the National Annual Conference were held at different times, and in different locations. The FCMF President in 1976 was Mrs. Jean Crittal of Ontario.

Excerpts taken from FESTIVALS: A History of Competitive Music Festivals in New Brunswick 1935-2007 by Gail Carleton

"The 1970's once again brought the national festival organization to New Brunswick. In 1976, the Annual Conference of FCMF was held at Mount Allison University. It was a 3-day event organized under the leadership of Margaret Grant of Sackville who later became president of NBFMF. Unfortunately, there was a strike of airline pilots which prevented or delayed many delegates from across Canada being able to get to Sackville. Gordon Hancock from Regina, a former FCMF President, and Dr. Bona from Saint John, an Area Director, were there, so meetings could get started while waiting for others to arrive. At this meeting an important proposal was put forward: to combine the annual Conference with the National Festival instead of organizing separate events at different places and different times of the years. Eventually this came about, although not until 1984.

"The Sackville Music Festival committee supported their President, Mrs. Grant, in organizing the conference. The New Brunswick government offered $1,500, to pay for a banquet for delegates and other guests. Stanislas Paulin from Saint John, a well-known tenor at Mount Allison Conservatory, was the guest soloist. The NBFMF was represented at the conference by its President, Dr. Bona, Secretary, Hectorine Lauzier and Treasurer, Millicent Kavanaugh. Hadley Wood, Chair of the NBFMF finance committee, also attended the conference as a representative of Bathurst Music Festival. He was given authority to "deal conclusively with the subject of affiliation fees which will be discussed thoroughly at the meeting."

It was at this annual conference that affiliation fees paid to FCMF by a provincial association were changed from a flat fee of $175 per year to a per-entry model based on the previous years' number of festival entries. For 1977, the fee was set at 6 cents per entry.

Editor's note: In future issues, the 1985, 1996 and 2007 National Music Festival and Annual Conferences, hosted by the New Brunswick Federation of Music Festivals, will be highlighted.

How you can help us continue to flourish

Sustaining Sponsors of the Classical Music Festival Movement in Canada

This is a new sponsorship program designed to assist all our affiliated local and provincial music festival associations, as well as the national federation.

Sustaining Sponsors are those individuals, foundations, service clubs, associations or businesses that want to help sustain the classical Music Festival movement across Canada. They value the work of thousands of volunteers in small rural communities, mid-size towns and cities, and large urban centers which help provide an educational music performance opportunity for youth. Each year there are approximately:

- 230 local festivals
- 10 provincial festivals
- 583,000 participants
- 13,900 volunteers
- 400,000 audience members

These Sustaining Sponsors recognize the importance of encouraging the study and performance of music at all levels, in all communities. Further, they recognize the value of identifying young people with special talent and a systematic approach to developing young emerging artists through local and provincial music festivals to the National Music Festival.

To reflect the importance of the local and provincial festivals and the vital role they play in the cultural fabric of their communities and the country as whole, donations from Sustaining Sponsors of the Federation of Canadian Music Festivals will be divided proportionately among the levels of festivals – local, provincial and national – as specified by the donor. In return, FCMF will promote the foundation, association or business throughout all of its affiliated festivals.

Donations from Sustaining Sponsors will be recognized at the following levels:

|                             |                     |
|-----------------------------|---------------------|
| Platinum Sustaining Sponsor | $100,000+          |
| Gold Sustaining Sponsor     | $60,000 - $99,999 |
| Silver Sustaining Sponsor   | $40,000 - $59,999 |
| Bronze Sustaining Sponsor   | $20,000 - $39,999 |
| Pewter Sustaining Sponsor   | $5,000 - $19,999  |

Please contact Barbara Long at info@fcmf.org if you have any leads connections that may help us find Sustaining Sponsors!

AWARD SPONSORSHIPS

The FCMF annually presents $42,000 in awards to the National Music Festival competitors.

The Grand Award winner receives $5,000 and the 2nd place Grand Award winner receives $2,500.

Competitors placing first, second and third in each of nine disciplines receive $1,500, $1,000 and $500 respectively;

Choirs placing first and second in 10 choral classes receive $500 and $250 respectively.

We invite you to sponsor a prize at the 2018 National Music Festival in Sackville, NB.

FRIENDS OF THE FESTIVAL

Friends of the Festival are donors who support the National Music Festival with donations up to $199. Unless designated towards a specific award [eg. Past Presidents' Award], the donations will be grouped to sponsor unassigned awards. The awards will be designated as sponsored by Friends of the Festival.

All donations will be receipted, and donors will be recognized as a Friend of the Festival on the FCMF website and in all FCMF Publications [National Music Festival Competition Program, Annual Digest Report and three issues of Più Mosso newsletter].

2018 NATIONAL MUSIC FESTIVAL IN SACKVILLE, NB

Hosting a National Music Festival costs approximately $90,000. FCMF is committed to keeping costs as low as possible for the competitors by obtaining sponsors for various events and costs of the festival. We invite you to sponsor a discipline, a session, or masterclass.

MEMORIAL DONATIONS

FCMF offers the opportunity to make a donation in the memory of a loved one, or to honor someone for the difference they have made in your life or community. Notification will be made to family members or honourees. These donations are tax-deductible.

NATIONAL TRUST FUND

Due to the generosity of past donors and investors, FCMF has two investment funds with the Victoria Foundation from which the interest is used annually to help fund awards. You can contribute to the long-term sustainability of FCMF by contributing to these investments.

LEGACY

A donation of securities or mutual fund shares is the most efficient way to give charitably. The Canada Revenue Agency does not apply capital gains tax on donations of publicly traded securities. When you sell your shares for cash, you're responsible for the tax due on the gain, even if you plan to donate the proceeds from the sale. But when you donate your securities directly through CanadaHelps, those capital gains aren't subject to tax. This means your charity receives a larger gift, and you'll benefit from a tax receipt for the full value of your eligible securities or mutual funds.

Advertising

FCMF has opened up a limited amount of advertising space in its publications [Annual Digest, Competition Program and newsletter]. We offer competitive advertising rates. This is an ideal way for universities with music programs, conservatories, summer music programs, music publishers, instrument makers and music stores to let our constituency and membership know of the services and programs you offer. Visit <http://www.fcmf.org/advertising/> for full details.
